

IMPACT

In 1998, Convoy of Hope responded to their first disaster — flooding in Del Rio, Texas, as a result of Tropical Storm Charley. Since then, they have responded to hurricanes, typhoons, ice storms, earthquakes, tornadoes, wildfires and floods in the U.S. and throughout the world with the goal to give people help and hope in times of great need. They are consistently among the first to respond to disasters. In total, Convoy of Hope has responded to more than 350 disasters and has helped millions of survivors by bringing food, water, ice, emergency supplies and long-term solutions to families reeling from tragedy. Each Hygiene Kit provides vital resources to help survivors around the world with their everyday needs after the impact of a
