Present, Not Accounted For

In the beginning, the spirit of God moved things from chaos to order. He continued and continues to do that.

To Discuss

1. How spiritual was the household you grew up in? More spiritually conservative or charismatic? Not at all? What makes you say that?
2. Were you taught to believe that science and faith don't overlap? How do you currently feel about that?
3. Do you tend to over-spiritualize or under-spiritualize the circumstances and interactions in your life? What makes you say that?
4. Knowing that God has a pattern of taking chaos and turning it into order, what is something in your life that you would like to see move toward order? What situation would you like to be more settled than chaotic?
