Like Stars in the Sky

Red or Blue. Left or Right. For or Against. It sometimes feels like the United States is every unit of itself. There's something we can do about that, and it has less to do with our rights and more to do with our responsibility.

Discussion Questions

1. Let's start off with some trivia!
  - What U.S. document includes the Bill of Rights?
  - Which founding father wrote the Bill of Rights?
  - In what year did the U.S. approve the Bill of Rights?
2. If someone were to read your texts and social media posts over the last three months, which one of these would they say best describes you? Why would they say that? If not one of these, what is a better word?

Divisive | Inclusive | Outspoken | Passive | Polite | Rude | Uninvolved

3. Read Galatians 5:13–15. What stands out to you? Does any part of the passage remind you of the current climate in our culture? If so, how?
4. Which of these three statements resonates with you most? Why?
  - Do what's just, not what you can justify.
  - Do what's responsible, not what's possible.
  - Do what's moral, not what's modeled.
5. Read Philippians 2:1–15. What stands out to you? What is one way you need to apply the principle in this passage?
