Introduction

[I'm so excited about our new series.]

Graphic: Title slide for Love, Dates & Heartbreaks

[This series is for students, grads, and singles who are dating and those who are single again and dating. It's also for those who are married and want to stay that way.]

Watching people make relationship decisions that undermine their relationships

[There's enough unavoidable relational pain without us adding to it. I watch and think...]

Have you thought that through?

Have you seen that work out for anybody else?

Has no one warned you?

[If your idea is to settle down some day, but for now you can "use them and lose them," that's heartbreaking to me. It's heartbreaking because...]

You are hurting you.
You are hurting others.

[You don't want to do either. You're setting yourself up to be...]

A liar for life

[When you tell your story, you're going to be tempted to lie about parts of it.]
