

Cause and Defect

Our actions rarely tell the whole story, but our reactions most certainly do. And Jesus instructs us to leverage them for good.

To Discuss

- 1. What typically causes you to overreact? Why do you think this is?
- Share something you've witnessed, read, or heard about that was inspiring because it was so opposite of what was expected.
- 3. Read Matthew 5:38-48. What part of that passage stands out to you most? Why?
- 4. If a reaction is an opportunity, can you think of an opportunity you missed recently? Or one that might have required an apology?
- 5. What reaction pattern can you leverage this week as an opportunity to reflect God's unexpected reaction to your shortcomings? What makes it so difficult and/or risky for you to do this?
